TOURNAMENT OUTLOOK

The Sixth Annual Concordia Invitational Women's Basketball Classic will once again feature the best in Canadian Intercollegiate Basketball, with seven of the eight teams nationally ranked in pre-season polls.

Six of the seven participating Canadian teams are ranked in the Starting Line-Up's top-ten list, including Laurentian University (1), University of New Brunswick (4), Bishop's University (5), University of Guelph (6), the host, Concordia University (7) and Acadia University (9). The lone American entry, Southern Connecticut State College finished sixth in the U.S. Nationals last season and are expected to be as strong this year. The remaining Canadian school, Université de Québec à Trois-Rivières, is an experienced club which should make its presence felt, especially All-star forward, Claudette LeClerc.

The Concordia cagers, defending tournament champions, hit hard by graduation and transfers, are led by forwards Paddie Chiara and Cheryl Petersen, and guard Gay Owens. Gryphon coach, Karen Lee has put together an impressive array of talent in her second year of coaching, including national team member, Candy Clarkson.

The Southern Connecticut Owls, who open their season with the Concordia Classic, hope to be as ready as they were two years ago, when they won the tournament.

Wayne Hussey's highly-touted Bishop's Gaiterettes include Quebec team members Debbie Huband, Helen McAuley, Diane Murphy, Linda MacPherson, as well as Concordia transfer, Wanda Hines.

Gib Chapman's Axlettes, led by Patti Langille and Montreal native, Martha Mayer are serious contenders for the Atlantic title, along with U.N.B. Red Bloomers, coached by former Olympian, Joyce Slipp.

Coach Norm Vickery's squad has won three consecutive national championships and is led by national team members, Chris Critelli and Michelle Belanger. Laurentian has reached the finals of the Concordia Classic in each of its three appearances, and captured the tourney in 1974.

Perhaps the true measure of the tournament's strength is the fact that the Vees have won the tournament just once in the last three years, although they have won the national championships each of those years.

Concordia University established in August 1974, joins together Sir George Williams University and Loyola of Montreal. Its name reflects the motto of the City of Montreal "Concordia Salus". The University has two campuses: Sir George Williams Campus, grouped around the Henry F. Hall Building at 1455 de Maisonneuve Boulevard West, in the heart of Montreal, and Loyola Campus in the west end, 7141 Sherbrooke Street, West - a concrete and a green campus.

The University offers undergraduate degrees in six faculties. The Faculty of Engineering, the Faculty of Commerce and Administration and the Faculty of Fine Arts give courses on both campuses. The other faculties are: The Sir George Williams Faculty of Arts; the Sir George Williams Faculty of Science; and the Loyola Faculty of Arts and Science.
